Diakon Volunteer Home Care—which provides non-medical assistance to people in their homes, with help ranging from light chores and errands to letter-writing and transportation—is about caring and supporting people in need throughout the Panther Valley area. Our challenge is to spread the word about Diakon Volunteer Home Care—because in our communities, volunteers are willing to extend a helping hand when they learn of others’ needs.

Just listen to the rewards, in the words of Diakon VHC volunteers.

“A volunteer is someone who cares about helping people to live a better life and if I can do that I will also live a fuller life myself.”—Linda Haschar.

“I began volunteering when the program first started in 1991. I had reached retirement age, was vice president of Zion Lutheran Church in Nesquehoning, and felt obligated when the church was asked to participate in Diakon VHC, to volunteer. I stayed with the program because I quickly saw how much the elderly and infirm appreciated the services. I have built an association with the clients and this makes me want to continue to serve.”—R. Mickey Angst.

If you are interested in becoming a volunteer or if you or someone you know can use our services, please give us a call.
