BENEVOLENT CARE

Help when there seems no hope

No matter how hard we try to save money for life's unexpected twists and turns, there are times when we have to make choices. There are times we have to do without.

And there are times we just can't do without.

Consider the older woman who has been in a senior living community for many years and has exhausted her financial resources. Or the family being pulled apart that cannot afford to receive counseling with their hurting teenage son. Or the child in an economically challenged neighborhood of Baltimore who needs care while his mother works, but whose family's budget doesn't provide for child-care costs.

Or the child with special needs who desperately needs a home, but whose potential adoptive family needs assistance with related costs.

Diakon Lutheran Social Ministries won't let these people down.

We give because there is a need for funding, and we are able to help... we can go back there and see the good things that are happening.

Each month, Diakon provides more than $1 million in benevolent care to members of the communities in which we live, to people experiencing the situations described, and to many others. But it takes many gracious and generous people to make such care possible.

One couple willing to do more than their share is Earl and Shirley Mutter of Boyertown, Pa. Their generous donation of stocks to Diakon are benefiting the Benevolent Care Fund at The Lutheran Home at Topton, a Diakon Senior Living Community in Topton, Pa.

"I used to go to Anniversary Day as a child, when they had the orphans," says Shirley. "They would put on shows. Our church would participate," she recalls. "I remember seeing all those little people. A lot of them were infants then. I remember my mother used to say, 'they don't have moms and dads like you do.'"

Because of their long history in the area, the Mutters chose to make their gift specifically to Topton's Benevolent Care Fund.

"We give because there is a need for funding, and we are able to help," says Shirley. "We enjoy seeing what giving accomplishes. We can go back there and see the good things that are happening."

"The benefits will be there forever," Earl agrees. "It's a wonderful legacy to leave behind."

You can help Diakon provide benevolent care to those in need by sending a donation in the enclosed envelope. Your gift will make a difference!

Diakon maintains a more-than-140-year tradition of care for people of all ages, especially those with limited financial resources. In 2008, Diakon provided more than $1 million a month in uncompensated care. Those funds underwrote services in the following ways:

■ Diakon senior living services*	$8,431,277
■ Diakon Family Life Services programs	$1,234,970
■ Programs for adjudicated youths	$1,012,535
■ Adoption, foster care and related services	$902,799
■ Diakon KidzStuff child-care services	$545,181
■ Synodical and congregational ministries	$541,310
■ Hospice and home-care services	$206,064
■ Community-based services for older adults	$300,176
■ Diakon Kathryn's Kloset	$54,482
■ Disaster relief services	$45,714

Total: $13,274,508

* Consists of actual costs to operate in excess of Medical Assistance reimbursement for skilled nursing care, benevolent care provided to those primarily in assisted living who have exhausted their financial resources but for whom Diakon continues to care, and uncollectible accounts.

Diakon: A testament to service and generous giving since 1868

It was perhaps no accident that the Rev. Phillip Willard served the Lutheran parish in Loysville, Pa., between 1856 and 1858. There, he surely became acquainted with the “classical academy” being operated by the Tressler family, who would reconfigure their small institution into a soldiers’ orphans home at the close of the Civil War.

In early 1867, Willard returned to Loysville with an attorney and a mission of making the orphans home an institution of the church. That dream came true the following year with the sale of the property—eventually to be known as the Tressler Lutheran Home for Children—to the church.

Named the first superintendent of the children’s home, Willard nevertheless spent most of the next year on the road raising some $4,000 to equip the home for its mission of serving “poor orphan children ... [supplying] their temporal wants ... [educating] them physically, intellectually, morally, and religiously ... and ... extend[ing] over them a wholesome guardianship.”

Nearly three decades later, concerned as well about orphaned children, members of the church’s then-Reading Conference elected a board of trustees and set about raising funds to purchase land to establish “The Lutheran Orphans’ Home in Berks County, Pennsylvania.” Eventually, the institution would be known as The Lutheran Home at Topton.

The home’s first superintendent, the Rev. Uriah P. Heilman, on a summer morning in 1897, undertook the groundbreaking himself, digging up several wheelbarrow loads of dirt, making the excavation in the shape of a cross.

Both homes for children began in response to need, and grew as the direct result of generous donations given by individuals, congregations, community groups, and businesses.

While much has changed—with both Tressler and Topton, continued today by Diakon Lutheran Social Ministries, growing over the years to serve not only children but also families and older adults—the mandate to meet people’s needs has not.

Nor has the pivotal role generous donors play in helping to make possible those services to children and youth, families and individuals, and older adults. Each year, as the result of efficient operations, the legacy of donors past, and the generosity of donors present, Diakon provides more than $1 million a month in benevolent care—making care possible to many who could not otherwise afford it.

Helping to assure Diakon can continue to provide such charitable care is the role of the Diakon Lutheran Fund Board of Directors. The board, composed of individuals with a range of financial, business, and organizational backgrounds, oversees a variety of funds—totaling approximately $20 million—whose purpose is to generate income for services to children and families.

Having their genesis in gifts given over the years to The Lutheran Home at Topton and the Tressler Lutheran Home for Children, these funds are critical to assuring adoption for waiting children, counseling for families in crisis, day care for inner-city children, charitable care for older adults, and much more.

Only through growth of these funds, whose income supports so many programs, will Diakon be able to meet the growing needs of people throughout Pennsylvania, Maryland, and Delaware.
